Web programing

I started programing one year ago since then i improved myself on online courses. I made some websites to challenge myself. I want programing to be my job and to do it all day because i feel that this is my profession. I want to solve problems constantly and improve myself by challenges and studies. Languages i have already learned: Html5, Css3(bootstrap), Some Javascript (Jquery). Of course i want to expand and learn more of these.

Communicatonal skills

In the past 3-4 years i have worked in several communcational areas. I have gained so many experience in this works. I'm an extrovert person. therefore the pure and straight communication is very important.
